For we are labourers together with God... I Cor 3:9

July 2026

See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil. Eph 5:15-16

Dear Praying Friends,

Greetings in the name of our Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. There's no doubt amongst Bible-Believers that the days are evil, but sometimes I wonder if we're truly redeeming the time. 2026 is flying by, and before you know it, we'll be wondering where the year went. I know this. It's more important than ever to make sure we're doing something for the cause of Christ while we can.

The Lord has been keeping Susan and I busy as usual and our schedule is full for the rest of the year. We're currently in New England through August and will be in the mid-south in September. We generally travel by motorhome, but will be spending more time in airports than the highways in the near future. We'll be heading to Alaska in October, then on to southern California in November. We covet your prayers for wisdom, open doors, and safety from the "many adversaries" that accompany efforts to be a positive influence for the Lord.

Please keep the situation with Pastor Dominguez in the Denver area in prayer. That ordeal is far from resolved, therefore it must not be forgotten. A victory for the devil in that case could potentially have a negative impact on Bible Believing preachers and churches all over the country.

As we travel, I am often asked if there's any change in the status of my Presidential Pardon application. The answer remains no. My status on the Department of Justice website remains "Pending." If you think about my pardon request and feel so led, any prayers would be appreciated.

Recently, in a church out west, a lady named Kristine told me about a lost friend she had a huge burden for. This acquaintance promised her that she would come to church that Sunday night to hear me preach. So many times people promise to come, sometimes with the best of intentions, but fail to show up for one reason or another. If you haven't ever experienced that, it's because you've haven't invited very many people to church. Kristine asked me to pray her friend would indeed come and as she telling me this, that very person stepped into the auditorium. Kristine was beside herself as she went to greet her.

The lady listened intently as I presented the Gospel that evening. She'd been witnessed to, and prayed for, numerous times in the past. She was not only receptive to the message of hope, she raised her hand to acknowledge she would like to pray and receive Christ's forgiveness and gift of eternal life. Praise the Lord!

I hope I don't soon forget the expression of joy that came over Kristine's face as her friend got saved. The disappointments of past letdowns evaporated. It reminded me of the importance for us all to keep our hand to the plough and trust the Lord for the increase.

With that being said, I'll close. Susan and I both sincerely thank all of you that pray for us.

In His service,
David and Susan Spurgeon
